Student Rights and Responsibilities
Student Threats

File: 504.50

Students frequently come under considerable pressure from school activities or from situations which may occur outside the school setting. All school district personnel must be constantly alert to how students may react to these pressures. In the event school district personnel hear a student threatening physical harm to either him or her self or to other individuals the employee will report this to the guidance counselor, building principal or to the superintendent of schools. A decision shall be made as to any action needed at the school level.
