

BE SAFE

BE RESPECTFUL

BE RESPONSIBLE

THE WEEKLY FLYER

"A promise must never be broken."

~Alexander Hamilton~

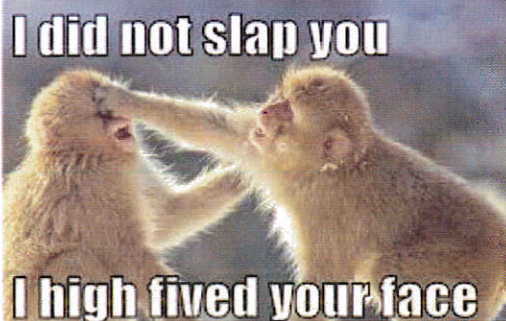

Elementary News

By: Bethany Owens and Winnie Huber

Hello O'Neill Elementary! This week we focus on Thanksgiving. It's almost here! Don't forget to deposit money for the Turkey Competition! If you've forgotten, for every dollar you put in the jar of the teacher of your choice, they get a feather on their turkey. The teacher with the most feathers wins! (ahem- vote for my mom, Mrs. Huber!) The competition ends on Thanksgiving day, so make sure you put at least a dollar for the teacher of your choice! Thanks for reading the "Weekly Flyer," and have a great week!

Weekly Memes

By: Autumn Hilker

Eagle Activities

By : Evan Kopecky

On Monday we have junior high wrestling at Randolph at 4 p.m. We also have a school board meeting at 7:30 p.m. On Tuesday we have a one act festival. There is also a junior high dual wrestling meet at Creighton at 4 p.m. Also we have junior high girls basketball @ Ainsworth at 6 p.m. On Thursday we have a junior high wrestling invite at Plainview 3:30 p.m. There is junior high girls basketball with West Holt at 6:30 p.m. Thank you for reading and always do it the eagle way.

Please send happy thoughts to Elijah Kopecky, one of our comic drawers on the newspaper team, who has broken his collarbone.

Mission Control

by: Peyton Yates and Alex Molina

Last week's mission was set a goal and work on it (something you need to improve on). Look introspectively at yourself and see if you are achieving your goal.

Examples are:

Peyton} Meet your AR goal.

Evan} Do it the Eagle Way all week.

Alex} To be the best student I can be.

Mrs. Froman} Keep intervention more organized.

Mrs. McCain} To see the needs of students.

Special Thanks!

To Easton Kopecky for his wonderful comic. Also thanks to Annie Corkle for contributing the weekly quote.

